FORTY-SECOND YEAR NO. 15

COLORFUL CELEBRATION TO BE HELD AT GULFPORT FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Of Next Week—Thirtieth Anniversary of Port—Senator Harrison to Send U. S. S. Destroyer With 200 Men Aboard—State Event.

Gulfport is planning a big state-wide celebration on Friday and Saturday, April 21 and 22, that will include many interesting features.

At this time the state high school bands will meet in Gulfport. Already fifteen high school bands have agreed to come, making in all about six hundred players. The high school state band contest will be held at the large hall at the Fair Grounds. Seats have been arranged for more than 2000 persons.

On Saturday morning, April 22, the big anniversary parade will be held at 10 o'clock. Eighteen brass bands will be in the line of march and the various civic organizations of Gulfport and along the Coast as well as other cities in the state, will have beautiful floats in the parade.

The Navy Department, through Senator Pat Harrison, is sending the destroyer Taylor which carries about 200 men. This fighting ship will be in the harbor for about a week. A large contingent of these sailors, as well as their platoons from the Coast Guard boats and various military organizations and units, will be in line. This promises to be the most colorful parade ever held in the state of Mississippi.

Special trains will be run and cheap railroad fares will be put on.

This big state-wide celebration comes at a very auspicious time for Gulfport. Gulfport is not only celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of the opening of the port of Gulfport but is also celebrating the fact that there is 26 feet of water in the harbor and channel, something that the city has been working for for the past twenty years. It is now an accomplished fact and about 80 per cent of the merchant ships of the world can dock at the wharves in Gulfport.

The celebration will also include the building of the large transit ship-side warehouse on the pier and the large cotton compress and warehouses in north Gulfport, which have just been constructed and are now in operation; and in connection with the celebration of these big things that have come to Gulfport is the high school state-wide band meet.

Gulfport invites all Mississippi to come and share with her these two big days. Hotel rates have been greatly reduced for this event and there are plenty of hotels to take care of the crowd.

The big prosperity march begins in Gulfport April 21 and 22, and the entire state is invited to be present.

FATHER'S NIGHT PROGRAM

Dr. Hal W. Mosley, of Tulane, Speaker at Central School Tuesday Evening.

A large and appreciative audience attended the celebration of Fathers' Night, held by the Central School P. T. A., on Tuesday. The program, entertaining from beginning to end, was as follows:

Assembly Singing—led by Mrs. Jas. Sylvester.

A short address of welcome, by Mrs. Logan, given in her usual gracious and attractive manner, and the reading in unison of the objectives of P. T. A.

A play, "The Trial of the Bird," by pupils of the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades. This play, directed by Misses Lois Quinn and Bee Smith and very capably coached by Mrs. Val Yates, proved how valuable bird life is, in protecting the crops from insects, bugs and worms. The lawyers, Richard Logan and David McDonald, deserve especial mention for their fine work in the play.

Announcements were then made by Dr. Evans and Mrs. Logan. A quartette sung by Miss Renaud, Roland Choina, Ruth Ward and Francis Nelson.

The speaker of the evening, Dr. Hal W. Mosley, head of the department of Chemistry at Tulane, was introduced by Mr. Marshall Ballard, in a very witty and entertaining speech. Dr. Mosley's address on "X Equals Father" was splendid. Light and humorous, as he was asked to make it, but with an undercurrent of seriousness in which he brought out many fine suggestions on the duties of a father. He pointed out the special need for a future to gain and keep the confidence of his sons as they grow older and need his help and kindly advice.

The program was closed with the assembly singing the P. T. A. "Battle Hymn for our Children." Mrs. Carl Smith played all piano selections.

ANNOUNCE NEW LOW GOODYEAR TIRE PRICES

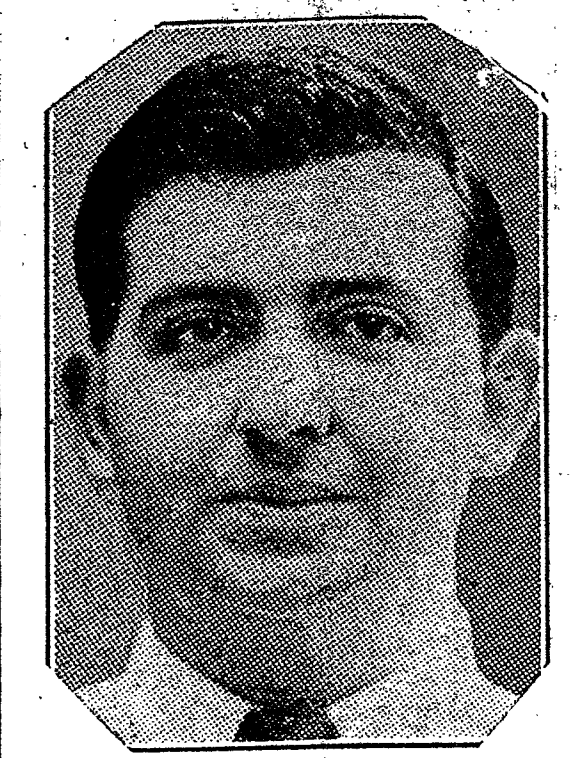

New low levels have been reached in tire prices, according to E. J. Arceneaux, local dealer for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

"In addition to sharply reducing prices, Goodyear will produce both two lines of tires—the well-known All-Weather Tread and the Pathfinder, discontinuing third and fourth line brands," Mr. Arceneaux stated.

"Prices on All-Weather tires are now at the level paid for Pathfinders a year ago, while Pathfinders may now be bought at prices comparable to those paid for the Goodyear Speedway line at that time," he continued. "All Weather tires are 45 per cent under 1929 rates, while Pathfinders cost 48 per cent less than in 1929, not including government tax."

The plan of price reductions and discontinuance of two lines represents in principle what is believed to be the best judgment of most of the leading factors in the tire industry. The motorist always prefers quality and the decline in prices will give it to him at a figure he can afford to pay," Mr. Arceneaux concluded.

YOUTH RECOGNIZED FOR ABILITY AND SUCCESSFUL STUDY

MARSHALL BALLARD, JR.

RESIDENT YOUTH IS HONORED

Marshall Ballard, Jr. Tulane Student, Awarded Complimentary Membership

A complimentary membership in the American Chemistry Society has been awarded to Marshall Ballard, Jr., in recognition of his leadership for the past four years in the special work of departments of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering in Tulane. The classes of these departments are among the largest at Tulane. Mr. Ballard's average in inorganic and organic, analytical and physical chemistry for the four years has been nearly 94 per cent.

He was among the Tulane seniors distinguished earlier this week for his general studies by election to the coveted fellowship of Phi Beta Kappa. His other studies at Tulane have been Mathematics, physics, German, English and economics. He hopes to make further studies in chemistry, engineering and economics. His high school work was done in St. Stanislaus College, Bay St. Louis.

The present award is explained by Professor Hal W. Mosley, director of Tulane's department of Chemistry, in the following notification to Mr. Ballard:

"Dear Mr. Ballard—Several years ago the Louisiana section of the American Chemical Society inaugurated at Tulane a prize, in the nature of a year's membership in the American Chemical Society, to that student graduating in Chemistry or Chemical engineering with the highest average for 3½ years. I have the honor, on behalf of the faculty of the department of Chemistry, of notifying you of your selection to receive this award of the Louisiana section for the year 1933. Your average for the 3½ years, upon which the selection is based, has been 93.9-10 percent.

"May I add my very great personal gratification at your unusually fine standing in your studies over the entire period of your collegiate work. The same sort of diligent and intelligent application, coupled with your splendid character, will make you a secure future in the practice of your chosen profession, and in your contacts with your fellows."

Young Ballard has been a life-long resident of our city, a student and graduate of St. Stanislaus college, son of our residents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Ballard, and it is interesting to note of his remarkable success.

The Echo certainly wishes to congratulate this splendid young man on the success attained, and may his continued application to diligent study continue to reap for him the rich reward which comes to he who would strive.

I SHALL NOT WANT.

I shall not want because He said, I am one of His sheep. He shall give shelter to my head, And place for me to sleep.

I shall not suffer wrongs in vain, Or limp with bleeding feet, Because He hears when I complain, And all my wants will meet.

I shall not idly weave nor dream, Because He gathers all, In darkness spins He Heaven's gleam, His light on me shall fall.

He'll come, as lonely Shepherd goes To seek the lamb that strays, Finding me He'll open His doors, In Love's welcome arrived.

BUS LINES TO TRAVEL NEW ROUTE

Will Pass Over Beach Boulevard From Main Street Northward to Bridge, Says City.

At regular monthly meeting of Board of Mayor and City Commissioners held Monday and continued during the week, two petitions were received and considered.

One asked that the route of the Teche bus lines be removed from the entire beach front and instead the Old Spanish Trail from the bay auto bridge be followed on thru the rear of the city. That the bus operating on the beach boulevard, particularly Waveland, was dangerous to children who might be out or crossing the beach front.

The other was to the effect that the bus taken off the beach front would be to take it away from the business section and that it would prove a loss in dollars and cents, as well as for a general advertising effect, and furnished the traveling public a scenic route and more attractive rather than the back roadway through the piney woods, a number of shacks and surface closets that were unsightly and a ban to the city.

The Mayor and Commissioners made a happy decision and struck a medium, at least the best they could, and in a measure satisfy petitioners of either of the two sides.

City of Bay St. Louis having jurisdiction over such matter, and not the State Railroad Commission, as was first thought, decided that the bus company in future would operate all the way over the trail until the intersection of Main street; then up Main to Front street and over the bridge. Returning from bridge over beach to Main and down to Second Street. In other words using only Main Street and that section on the beach between head of Main and Ulman avenue.

RESUMES ALL-TIME SCHEDULE

A. & G. Theatre Announces Beginning Saturday Night Showhouse Will Open Nightly.

Beginning Saturday night of this week, when the season of Lent will be officially over at 6 o'clock, full nightly schedule of opening and full program will be resumed by the A. & G. Theatre of Bay St. Louis. The Penitential season with its restrictions for pleasure caused the theater to open four nights a week, rather than the full seven, and the return of the full schedule will be received with general satisfaction.

Coming in due time the A. & G. will offer major and popular attractions and these are for the immediate future. A booking of film features recently makes this possible and will prove a revelation to the public fond of high-class features and the best of entertainment.

Not only with the passing of the Lenten season but with a betterment in general conditions and an improved spirit the management has prepared to take care of the public, catering to their wishes and striving to please the majority, if not all.

Program for next week appears in the regular advertising space of the A. & G. Theatre. Cut the ads each week and keep tab on the program. It is published not only as an advertisement by the management but as a matter of public information as well.

Charles Gardebled Dies at New Orleans Following an Operation

News of the death of Charles Gardebled was received here Tuesday afternoon with sorrow and general regret. He had undergone a surgical operation for an ulcerated stomach, and following several blood transfusions, pneumonia finally developed and he peacefully passed away at a New Orleans hospital, April 11, 1933, at 1:45 o'clock, aged 30 years.

Remains were shipped to Bay St. Louis, his home, the same evening and taken to the Fahey Funeral home, Union street, from which place funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with interment at St. Mary's cemetery, and ceremonies of the Catholic church, Rev. Father Nelius Downing officiating.

Charles Gardebled was well known as an industrious man, diligent to every duty and his untimely passing away removes a splendid type of young manhood. He had well lived the exemplary life. In the short span of his life he had served his Maker and mankind.

He is survived by Mrs. Octave Fayard, Mrs. Florence Gardebled Smelter of Mobile, and Miss Madeline Gardebled.

The funeral was largely attended and a wealth of flowers silently but eloquently expressed sympathy.

"LITTLE LOST PUP"

He was lost—not a shade of a doubt of that; For he never barked at a slinking cat, But stood in the square where the wind blew raw, With a drooping ear, and a trembling paw, And a mournful look in his pleading eye, And a plaintive sniff at the passer-by, That begged as plain as a tongue could sue "Oh Mister—please may I follow you?" A lone wee waif of a tawny brown, Adrift in the roar of heedless town, Oh, the saddest of sights in a world of sin Is a little lost pup with his tail tucked in!

When "Lady" followed her little master, Friday morning, when he started for school—she became confused and was lost.

All day Friday she wandered in the neighborhood of Fahey's Drug Store.

Some one has kindly taken her in and Bobby Pollard is ready to reward the one who will return his pet and the inseparable companion of a lonely little boy.

COUNTY LOAN TO HOSPITAL

King's Daughters' Borrow Sum From Sixteenth Section Fund and Pay off Private Loan.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County held a few days ago that body came to the rescue of the debt fund of Bay St. Louis King's Daughters by lending the full sum of $1500.00, for a term covering a period of five years, at rate of interest of 6 per cent per annum, whereas the former loan carried an 8 per cent. Interest rate, and was due yearly.

Board of Supervisors made the loan according to law, from the Sixteenth Section School Fund, having such idle funds on hand and placing with such splendid security and to mutual advantage.

It will be remembered when the hospital organization purchased the present hospital property in Carroll avenue, sufficient funds were not available from the treasury to make full payment, hence a loan was necessary.

In Explanation.

It would seem hardly necessary to offer the explanation to follow but is necessary because of rumor and false reports no doubt arising from a lack of understanding of such loans may be had from the county, that prevail. The explanation is to the effect that this loan does not signify the county has taken over the hospital and will operate it as a county charity, neither does the loan mean that the property now belongs to the county. At the end of five years, if the note is neither paid in part or full, it is easy to surmise and most likely, the loan will be renewed for another long period. All that is necessary and expected from the county is that the interest be paid at the end of the year, property kept in good condition and repair and that suitable insurance be carried and paid in amount at least to pay the loan in the event of fire.

The loan was carried by one of the local banks at 8 per cent. The hospital will now pay 6. Maturity of the note will occur at the end of five years. Hence the story in a nutshell.

GULFPORT'S CELEBRATION NEXT WEEK

IT IS certain Gulfport will be the Mecca for people from all points of Mississippi, New Orleans section of Louisiana and Mobile section of Alabama on Friday and Saturday of next week on the occasion of celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of building of Gulfport harbor, Mississippi's only major port.

Fostered by federal and state the proposed celebration will be held under official auspice in that sense that will make it worthy of attention and regard to which it is entitled. One needs not be very old to remember when Gulfport was a wilderness, with two rusty streaks running towards the water's edge, representing the original G. & S. I. tracks, a dream that at that time seemed difficult of realization even in the distant future.

All dreams have come true. The harbor built and destined to immediate greater things; city of Gulfport and to ourselves as well to visit there on Friday and Saturday of next week and participate in the celebration. And by our presence to pay tribute to the achievement and greatness of Gulfport.

NEW RAILROAD RATES AID TO TRAVEL.

NOTING from the advertising columns of newspapers the Louisville & Nashville Railroad company is not only slashing prices of travel, regular and excursion rates, but through sleeper trains will hereafter carry day coaches.

There was a time when summer excursions to larger cities and distant resorts were in vogue. Ten dollars to either Chicago or St. Louis and similar rates to other points. This was for a short period in the late summer, yet it served the purpose of making possible people might travel a little and see their own country.

At the present cost of travel it is reasonable to expect this summer excursion rates of some twenty years ago.

In the old days trains were crowded and to get a diner table it was almost by appointment. It is possible these days are coming back. Cheaper travel cost will help for their return.

Church collection platters will be last to feel the boom.

One thing for an official to learn is that you can't please everybody.

In about six months the farmers of the nation will know whether they have been relieved or not.

The old idea that buying on credit was a method of getting something for nothing is about exploded.

A south Mississippi weekly places our honored Roosevelt in the category of Hitler and Mussolini as dictators. This is indeed poor grace.

The German nation lost much of the respect that it has won since the World War by its foolish boycott and mistreatment of the Jewish people there.

The era of worshipping a man because he has made a little money, without regard of the methods employed, is beginning to pass in the United States.

Mississippians in great proportion will drink beer manufactured in Louisiana. Louisiana will get the revenue while Mississippi will get only the beer. Aren't we easy!

Carloads of strawberries are shipped daily from Picayune at top notch prices. Hancock county's neighbors are deserving of the success they worked for and went after.

It would be a grave error to stop the progress of education during the present emergency. Economies and reductions may be inevitable but the processes of education are too valuable to be wrecked.

Recent burning in part of the Aniston Hotel at Mississippi City last week removes the annex of the oldest major hotel on the Coast, its building dating back over a half century. Here is a subject for an interesting story by some newspaper over in Harrison county. Who built and when? It was a famous summer hotel in its day.

FOLLOWING ROOSEVELT.

PRESIDENT Roosevelt has very wisely taken advantage of his present strategic position to force through Congress the legislative measures which he desires. He knows, and so does everybody else, that his power is greater at the present moment, in the flush of victory, and before the patronage has been distributed to the deserving Democrats, than it will ever be again.

The first measures proposed by the President went through with little signs of opposition. The bank dictatorship, the beer legislation, and other laws, were placed on the books speedily and enthusiastically. Despite the opposition of certain veterans' organizations the President was given power to cut pensions and allowances. However, as President Roosevelt pushes his measures, he begins to find some skepticism among the members of his own party in Congress.

When the creation of the Civilian Service Corps came before the House, Chairman Coney of the House Labor Committee refused to sponsor the measure in view of the opposition of the American Federation of Labor. A little later the President incurred some dissent over the passage of his measure for the relief of agriculture. In the Senate it was chairman Smith of the Agricultural Committee who, for a time, hesitated about the administration bill and, likewise, declined to sponsor the same.

"Cotton" Smith said: "If turning over to the Secretary of Agriculture an overlordship over every farm and the power to tax every processor is the only hope, I despair of the future." President Simpson of the National Farmers Union also registered disapproval, saying: "This bill sure is an experiment. You've started something when you attempt to regulate 30,000,000 men, women and children on the farm. It's impossible to control production by acreage. You've got to get God on your side before you can. The land-leasing action may result in a scandal that stinks to high heaven—a scandal that'll wreck the Democratic Party. For a job-crop producer this bill is a wonder."

Regardless of these and other dissenting voices the probability is that the great majority of people in this country still want President Roosevelt to have his way. They elected him in the hopes of a change from what they had been experiencing. He promised them the "new deal" and the people generally want him to have the powers he asked for but they are expecting him to deliver what they want. If the President succeeds all will be rosy: If he fails, that will be another story.

THE LOSS OF THE AKRON.

CONSIDERABLE discussion as to the value of dirigibles follows in the wake of the tragic disaster which ended the career of the Akron, and carried to death more than three score of her gallant crew.

The loss of life moved a nation to sorrow. About the dead one need pay no greater tribute than to express the firm conviction that they died in the line of duty, facing death bravely in accordance with their code of honor and that they served their country as all good citizens should.

The fact that the Shenandoah, as well as the Akron, met disaster in the stress of great storms leads some to the immediate conclusion that further airship building would be foolish. This is not the opinion of Admiral Moffet, who died with the ship, but who gave abundant evidence of his faith in their value as naval ships.

It may be that such ships are not able to ride the great storms that may sometimes buffet them, but considering their great value as scouting craft, in all save hurricane weather, and that the fate of the entire navy might one day rest upon their ability to serve as "eyes" for the warships, will inevitably lead to their retention as an arm of the service.

Consider the disasters that marked the slow progress of submarine success. It was much the same. Time after time the nations of the world bowed their heads in grief at the loss of brave men, buried deep on the ocean's bed, locked helpless prisoners in the hulls of their imprisoned ships. Yet, today, no nation would think of abolishing her uboats unless it was a general relinquishment of the undersea terror in accord with international agreement.

The record of the Graf Zeppelin and the former flights of our own dirigibles attest to the value of these giants of the air. Their future may be doubtful at present, but their use is certain.

COUNTRY WEEKLY HOLDING ITS PLACE

SPEAKING of the Akron wreck, people in Rodeo, N. M. or Dollar Bay, Mich., who had their radios turned on, knew about it before the extras of the metropolitan papers were off the press. The radio undoubtedly has cut in somewhat upon the newspapers, but the introduction of radio communication is one instance in which the small man has been hurt least. The local paper, full of neighborhood news, has withstood the telegraph and the telephone, and more than radio broadcasting will be required to put it out of business. The acquisition of current information, like charity, begins at home, and it will take a smarter man than Edison or Marconi to do away with an American institution which is so well-established and useful as the country weekly.

PAINTING PROPERTY.

MANY properties are allowed by their owners to remain unpainted and not only are buildings looking shabby and detracting from the city's appearance but deteriorating influence of the elements are exacting inevitable toll.

The cost of paint, and its application especially at this time, is small compared to the damage resulting from lack of painting.

A gentleman visited here recently who had been absent for some time. Asking how he found Bay St. Louis, he said, hesitatingly, he never saw it looking so shabby. He did not realize what it was that caused everything to look bare and barren, as he expressed it.

The truth of the matter is he found property in need of possible repair and paint. It costs little but makes a big difference. Besides, it means preservation.

EASTER!

REJOICE and rise with Nature's birth.
God broke the spell of Death;
Resurrection upon the earth,
The soul thrilled by God's Breath.

Be joyous on this Easter Day,
From sin freed hearts oppress;
Christ rolled the heavy stone away,
With Him find Peace and Rest.

Gaze on the flowers of the Spring,
Symbol of God's great love;
Church bells in melody loud ring,
Look up to Hope above.

SAUNTERINGS. From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS
(For the Sea Coast Echo)

IN States wherein the sale of 3.2 beer was legalized on April 7, 1933, this date will go down in history as second Independence day.

Unfortunately, there are quite a few states which (so their blind, cranky, bigoted prohibitionists, and a few "pushball" politicians try to make one believe) are still DRY.

Even an old, cock-eyed, barn yard hen has presence of mind enough to run to shelter from an April shower. The powers-that-be in some DRY states, unlike the old hen, simply cackle and stoically scratch right on, ignoring the deluge of 'bootleg downpours' that continue in these states, despite the hypocritical boasts of prohibitionists that skies are dry, fair, and never brighter.

April showers of bootleg liquor, and health-wrecking 'home brew' that ARE FALLING in these DRY states do not bring forth May flowers. . . . And likewise, fetches forth no vitally needed revenue to state, county, or city treasury.

It is not too late to get in the Legal 3.2 Beer Barn, Mr. State Officials. . . out of the 'bootleg downpour.' Failure to do so may mean a big hail storm of displeased voters later.

Lots better to act like the wise, old hen than a deliberate stubborn goose.

EVERYWHERE, eager kiddies are awaiting the yearly visit of Bunny Rabbit, that genial, pink nosed, furry friend of childhood, who is due to arrive sometime during the wee small hours of Easter Sunday morning. For the past week bright-eyed, light-hearted, little Shirley Jeans, Mary Anns, John Anthonys, and juniors, too, have been counting the days until this glad some event.

Fancy flower bedecked baskets, boxes, tin pans, and various other containers will be trustfully placed besides little beds on Saturday night. And, oh, how long it will seem from the time tender, "Now I lay me down to sleep" is said until the first faint rays of a rising Easter sun creep cheerfully into the bed chambers of peacefully slumbering little tots.

Mothers and dads will be awakened by yells of delight, when the youngsters discover the baskets of sugared treasures left by the Easter Bunny as a reward for good little boys and girls.

Perhaps a scheming little John Anthony may ask his dad if something couldn't be done about getting the Easter Bunny to live at his house all the year 'round. This alert young man would gladly help the bunny gentleman on his Easter egg route. Willingly would he paint all the Easter eggs and, maybe, he could even sample the big chocolate marshmallow ones—just to be sure they were sweet enough for the rest of the kids. Dad diplomatically agrees, while grandma, wise from years of past experience, checks up on the castor oil supply in the medicine cabinet.

A REAL and praiseworthy Easter spirit will be manifest by charitable organizations and individuals, who will look after the needs of their less favored fellowmen. These represent the many good folks who carry on the ideals and teachings of HIM who suffered himself to be nailed to the cross in order that mankind might be saved.

Because of their good work, Easter morning will find no trace of bitter tears of disappointment streaking the pathetic little faces of children whose parents are handicapped by lack of funds to provide some little token of the season. A good Samaritan would consider his efforts well repaid on Easter morn just to have a glimpse of some happy childish face, and to hear its joyous cry of delight. . . "Look, Mamma, Mamma, the Easter rabbit came to see me, even if daddy doesn't have any work."

All set? Let's stick a carrot in our mouth, a basket under arm, and hoppey hop right behind Mr. Easter Bunny—just in case he forgets a few spots along the route. It'll be great sport.

YOU'VE heard of pink elephants in the song. Well, we saw a live, pink Easter rabbit in a cage before a downtown store today. And that wasn't all. There were yellow, blue, green, and purple bunnies to keep him company. In another cage, the dealer had tiny baby chicks on display. These, too, were dyed in all colors of the rainbow, and offered for sale as Easter novelties. Cunning, frisky, little puppies, in still another cage, tugged at pink bows about their necks, while waiting someone to claim them as a pet. And would you believe it? This menagerie was before a modern drug store.

THE PRIZE

He rushed home from the office,
With a smiling, happy face,
With a light in his eyes,
That no worry could erase.

In his hand he held a package,
Wrapped and neatly tied,
And he tried to slip in quietly,
So the package, he could hide.

The children saw him coming,
And they ran to him, with joy,
For a package, wrapped so nicely,
Sometimes meant, for them, a toy.

"Wait," he said, "Till after dinner,
Then we'll hurry and get through,
I'll help Mother with the dishes,
And I know that you will too.

When the work was finished,
And they gathered 'round the board,
Then Dad took down the package,
And how their spirits soared.

Then slowly he unwrapped it,
While they cried 'Dad, hurry, please,'
But his fingers only dallied,
He was doing it to tease.

At last the wrap unfolded,
Which concealed the mysterious prize,
And a bright new jig-saw puzzle,
Out on the table lies.

WHAT IS HAPPENING TO YOU?

IF you are among those who are trying to get along without telephone service, a number of things are likely happening that may directly influence the welfare of yourself and family.

You are probably missing the pleasant, informal gatherings that are arranged by telephone. Or, if there are children in the home, they no doubt feel cut off from the happy contacts that the telephone affords.

Being without a telephone also deprives you of the means of calling the doctor quickly, or getting help in case of fire or other emergencies. In short, the home without a telephone today is isolated.

The cost is less than ten cents a day. Any telephone employe will explain the party line and other classes of service.

ALLEGED WOODS BURNER CHARGED WITH TIMBER DESTRUCTION

Court Finds Floyd Bond Guilty and Assesses Hundred-Dollar Fine and Costs.

Floyd Bond, who lives in what is known as the Dan Johnson neighborhood in the southern part of Stode County was tried before Judge Hatten's court in Wiggins yesterday on a charge of setting fire to wood lands not his own.

The evidence submitted to the court was in effect, that two employees of the Mississippi Forest Service detected the defendant in act of dropping lighted matches as he rode through the woods causing a fire which burned over 600 acres of wood land and did an estimated damage of more than $900.00.

The defendant was found guilty and fined $100.00 and costs. According to the district forester the territory in the immediate neighborhood of the defendant's residence has been subject to repeated fires ever since the protective area was established. It is alleged that a great deal of circumstantial evidence connects the defendant with these fires and a special effort was made this year to put an end to them.

To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one half teaspoon of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

LEETOWN

THE closing exercises of Leetown Consolidated School were held Friday evening, March twenty ninth at eight o'clock with a large crowd attending from various parts of Pearl River and Hancock counties.

The graduating exercises were held outside in order to accommodate the usually large audience. The class colors of green and white were carried out in the decoration of the stage, which was truly beautiful with a background of green trees with white-washed trunks.

B. L. Coulter, Supt. of Mississippi Industrial and Training School of Columbia, Miss., gave the graduating address. His subject was: "Some Recipes of Life." In his beautiful and inspiring way he discussed, value of work, play, the use of leisure time and the formation of habits which develop character as recipes of life.

In the absence of Supt. A. S. McQueen, T. J. Gipson, County Supt. of Education of Pearl River county presented the diplomas to the graduates. Mr. Gipson made a short talk which was directed to the patrons, taxpayers and graduates of the school on the difficulties which county superintendents have had to face in order to keep the schools open this session. Especially did he commend the spirit of loyalty and co-operation which the teachers of the entire school have shown during this session of adverse conditions.

Miss Thelma Fleming, principal of the school presented the speakers and made the necessary announcements. She thanked the patrons and teachers for their cooperation throughout the year. Mr. Woodrow Lee, first assistant and Mr. E. E. Dreeland, second assistant, also expressed their appreciation for the courtesy and cooperation which they had received this year.

City Echoes

—Incident to the Easter season many boys of St. Stanislaus College left for the usual brief vacation, many more remained and with a frankness due to the depression gave the reason: no funds.

—Rev. Father Leo F. Fahey returned from Natchez where he participated in the ceremonies of the Catholic Cathedral, bringing the sacred oils to his church here and elsewhere on the Coast.

—Mrs. Orie Pollard was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Munger, of Pass Christian for luncheon Friday. Mrs. Munger, noted artist of Cape Cod entertains charmingly in her Studio at Pass Christian where her many beautiful paintings cover the walls.

—I contemplate leaving in Auto for Cambridge, Ohio, about April 20th, Route Montgomery, Birmingham, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati. Have room for one, two or three people, who would like to make the trip. Phone 373-R, Waveland. Victor E. Lizana.

—Mrs. P. J. Thriffley, son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Leonard, and interesting little daughter, are out from New Orleans visiting at the beach boulevard home of Mrs. E. J. Leonard and will remain for some time, enjoying the spring glories of the Mississippi Coast.

—Miss Louise Carrere, pleasing and attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. C. Carrere, reached home Tuesday night from St. Mary's of the Woods College, Indiana to spend the Easter holidays visiting her parents at their home on the Waveland beach. Miss Effie Graham Power, who is also studying at St. Mary's, has gone to St. Louis for the brief season to visit friends.

—Mr. Marchmont Schwartz spung some surprise on his folks by his sudden appearance among them Tuesday night. Instead of spending his vacation in Chicago for Easter-tide "Marchy" hurried back to his home folks and his home town for the brief spell permitted him by the Notre Dame University. Looking well and happy, fame has left him all unspoiled and we wish him continued good luck.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Briede, their daughter, Mrs. W. J. Curry and her son, W. J. Jr., Tulane student, are spending the Easter holidays at the beautiful Briede home in Coleman avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Briede to remain full ten days before returning to New Orleans. However, they plan to return shortly thereafter to remain until October. Mr. Briede is quite a booster of this section of the Coast.

WORK AND PLAY

AT S. J. A.

ALICE CAMORS WINS FIRST PLACE IN BROAD JUMP.

S. J. A. took part in each of the girls' events scheduled last Saturday at the Regional Track Meet which was held in Biloxi, winning a first place in one of the events and placing in the remaining three.

Alice Camors won the "broad jump" medal with a record of 14 ft. 8½ inches, outjumping her opponents by three inches. Evelyn Perre came out third in the 50-yard dash, and fourth in the "high jump," while our Relay Team composed of Helen Martin, Louise Strong, Evelyn Perre and Alice Camors, were the first to cut the string in their heat and were awarded a fourth place in the whole relay.

Bernice Johnson was given a third place for piano and Alice Camors a second place for Latin.

These honors with the first place which Lois Wolf merited in the single Tennis Tournament and the second place for the doubles won by Alice Camors and Joyce Wolf give S. J. A. a sum total of twenty-eight points—a fine record considering the fact that being an all-girl school we could take part only in the events open to girls, which events form only a small minority of the total numbers scheduled.

S. J. A. is justly proud of this record and already looks forward to still greater results for the next school session.

EASTER HOLIDAYS BEGAN WEDNESDAY.

Classes to Resume Tuesday 18. Beginning Monday there was that "tense" atmosphere about the class rooms which betokened the approaching holidays.

At 3 o'clock Wednesday the classes were dismissed until Tuesday morning, April 18. The boarders are to return Monday evening. Of course this short vacation will prove a most welcome break and will be more than usually enjoyed since these four days will be the last holidays until June.

TICKETS FOR "IT'S A MING" ARE GIVEN OUT.

The students of S. J. A. will strive to do their share in making "It's a Ming," a big success. The play which is a riotous comedy will be presented jointly by the St. Margaret's Daughters and the P. T. A. of S. J. A. Four fifths of the benefit will be given to diminish the S. J. A. debt fund. Tickets to the performance which will take place Tuesday night, April 18, at the S. J. A. gym were given out in each class room Monday and the students have pledged themselves to do their best in disposing as many tickets as possible.

SODALITY NEWS.

The spiritual meeting for the month of April took place on last Thursday. At the usual time the Sodalists assembled in church where kneeling before the altar of their Blessed Mother, they recited her praises in the beautiful words of the "Little Office." The meeting concluded with a hymn.

SPECIAL MEETING CALLED WEDNESDAY.

A special meeting of the Children of Mary was called Wednesday afternoon to enable the Sodalists to hand in their individual choices of the twelve most prominent American Catholic Women of the past century. This contest which is being carried on throughout the United States under the auspices of the Queen's Work will close on April 15, by which time all votes must be in the main office in St. Louis. The results of the contest will be published later.

The Sodalists were exhorted to spend the last three days of this Holy Week in a manner befitting of Children of Mary. The fact that this "Good Friday" will be the nineteenth anniversary of the death of Our Lord on the Cross will add yet more solemnity to this always stupendous act of our redemption.

Each Sodalist volunteered for an hour of adoration before the "Repository" on Holy Thursday and lists were drawn fixing the time for the various groups.

TO FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Welcome great leader of this land, This Government to steer; Pray lead us to a brighter day, Our nation's cry to hear.

Guide safe and sound the ship of State Into a harbor bright; Within your hands we place our fate, God guide you in His might.

—RICHARD J. LINCOLN, Assumption Abbey, Richardton, N. D.
